

TATA CHEMICALS' TECHNICIAN HONORED WITH PRIME MINISTER'S SHRAM SHRI AWARD

Tata Chemicals' technician, Rajesh Samani was recently honored with the Prime Minister's Shram Shri Award at a function held in the national capital, New Delhi. Mr. Rajesh Samani, who has been with Tata Chemicals for the last 34 years, received the award from the Hon'ble Vice President Shri M. Venkaiah Naidu in the presence of Shri Santosh Kumar Gangwar, Union Minister of State (I/C) for Labour & Employment. He received the award in recognition of his consistent performance and dedication to safety, health and environment, punctuality and teamwork.

Mr. B B Kathpalia – VP-Manufacturing - Mithapur, Tata Chemicals, Mithapur said, "Rajesh Samani was nominated for the award for his contribution to productivity, quality, conservation of resources, waste utilization and cost reduction. His ownership of challenges with proven innovative abilities and presence of mind leading to solutions and cost-savings resulted in his being nominated for the Shram Awards. We are glad that he is among the 338 workers across India who have been honored with the Shram Awards and congratulate him for this honor. We are sure that his success will inspire other workers to hone their skills and bring out their best."

The Shram Vir Award carries a cash prize of Rs. 60,000/- and a Citation. On the occasion, the winners were congratulated by the Union Minister of State (I/C) for Labour & Employment for not only doing their work diligently, but also inspiring their companions to give their best. The Minister further stated that the economic development of the country depends on the work which the workers perform in various sectors which is an effective step to strengthen the country and create a strong nation.

The Secretary, Labour and Employment, Smt. M. Sathiyavathy, Additional Secretary, Shri Heera Lal Samariya and Economic Adviser, Shri Devender Singh also present on the occasion.